MAYOR'S FOREWORD

I am delighted to launch the programme for the 16th annual Limerick Lifelong Learning Festival. This year's festival will be held from 20th – 26th April. At the heart of our Festival is the belief that learning should be fun and accessible for everyone. Following our motto - Communities, Connecting, Learning - we invite you to embark on a journey of exploration, engagement, and pure celebration. We are thrilled to offer a week full of free and fantastic learning events spread across the vibrant neighbourhoods of Limerick city and county. The theme of the festival this year is 'Discover Lifelong Learning 2026' and I invite you all to participate fully in the festival and perhaps take up a new hobby or skill to further your lifelong learning journey.

The list of events taking place over the course of the festival will be of interest to people in communities and neighbourhoods the length and breadth of Limerick city and county and of course further afield. I anticipate strong participation mirroring the high levels of engagement we have witnessed in previous years.

I am delighted to support Learning Limerick's membership of the UNESCO Global Network of Learning Cities (GNLC) and the Irish Network of Learning Cities (INLC). Limerick City and County Council is committed to lifelong learning in all its forms and values its membership of the Irish Network and has actively participated in the Network's Shared Island initiative.

This year marks an important milestone for Learning Limerick with the lead partners signing an updated Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) to grow the Learning Limerick initiative. Limerick City and County Council is also delighted to host the launch of the new Learning Limerick Strategic Plan 2026 – 2030 on the first day of the festival.

I wish you all the very best for the Lifelong Learning Festival 2026; as we continue to guide curious minds on their perpetual journey of discovery.

JOHN MORAN
MAYOR OF LIMERICK

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the 16th annual Limerick Lifelong Learning Festival, taking place from Monday 20th to Sunday 26th April 2026. This is my first festival as Chairperson of the Learning Limerick Steering Group, so it is a particularly exciting one for me. I would like to say a particular thanks and tribute to our outgoing Chairperson Eimear Brophy who headed up the Steering Group and the Festival for many years; helping to guide and grow the initiative to what it has become today.

This year's festival theme is 'Discover Lifelong Learning 2026' and we would like to extend a warm invitation to sample some of the exciting and interesting events that are being presented throughout Limerick City and County during festival week. This festival this year is also based around the power of connections, family-friendly events and AI in everyday life. The success of previous festivals is testament to the interest in learning by the people of Limerick and has been a driving force in maintaining our own enthusiasm and determination to deliver a festival that is as diverse and inclusive as possible. With over 130 free events to choose from this year, featuring activities such as community, arts, wellbeing, guided tours, open days, education pathways, professional and personal development, language tasters, technology, cookery classes, music, dance, business and enterprise, there certainly is something for everyone to choose from.

This year, we are delighted to officially launch the festival programme in Technological University of the Shannon (TUS) Coonagh Campus on 27th March. There is also a key event as part of the festival week itself, launching our new Learning Limerick Strategic Plan 2026 – 2030 in Istabraq Hall on April 20th. This plan builds on our strong foundation and sets out how we will widen participation, strengthen partnerships, and ensure that learning is embedded in community development, enterprise, culture and civic life.

At this time of year, we are also reflecting on importance of Learning Limerick's proud membership of the UNSECO Global Network of Learning Cities (GNLC). We are also deepening our engagement with both our Irish and European and North American Learning City colleagues, sharing ideas and learning from best practice.

The Learning Limerick Steering Group presents the festival each year. This is representative of all the main stakeholders involved in the promotion of learning in Limerick. On behalf of the steering group, I would like to express my thanks to our sponsors who provide vital funding to run the festival. I especially would like to thank all of those involved for their commitment and hard work in the planning and running of the festival. I look forward to seeing you during the week.

Irish Network of Learning Cities (INLC)

The Irish Network of Learning Cities has continued to meet both online and in person to support each other in our work. There were also a number of Shared Island Learning Exchanges over the last year around a range of themes:

- Cork Learning City - theme of brainstorming Learning Neighbourhood and community engagement initiatives.
- Belfast Learning City – theme of creativity.
- Waterford Learning City – theme of ‘Lifelong Learning and Education for Sustainable Development’

These exchanges provide opportunities for sharing experiences and brainstorming how to tackle challenges together. They also provide an opportunity for cities to gain new ideas to action and to make new connections.

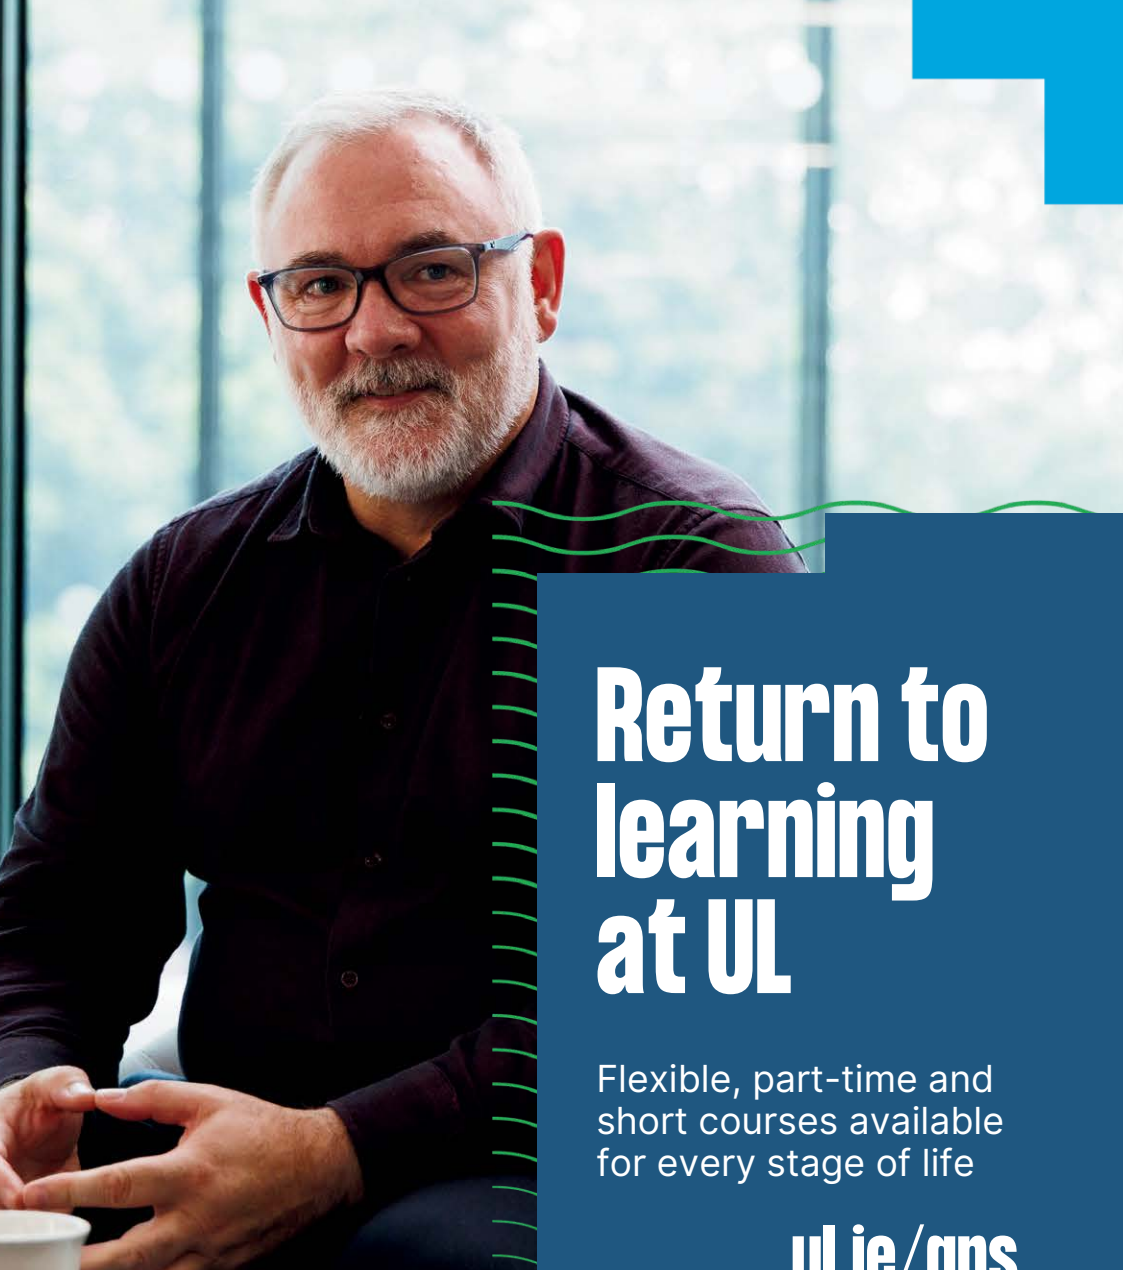

The Forum of North American and European Learning Cities, a joint initiative of Évry-Courcouronnes and Cork, with the support of the UNESCO Institute for Lifelong Learning, had its inaugural meeting in France in September 2025. This was to shape the governance of a new international learning network. Cork, Limerick, Belfast and Waterford Learning Cities were all represented at this meeting.

LEARNING LIMERICK NETWORKING MEETINGS

Two Learning Limerick Networking meetings were held in 2025. The first one focused on preparing for the 2025 festival and the flagship 'All Literacies Change Lives' seminar. The second meeting was held in December 2025 and marked the start of preparing for the 2026 festival; while reflecting on the learning from 2025. Michael MacCurtain, Chairperson of Learning Limerick and Limerick Chamber Skillnet, presented on current developments in Learning Limerick and plans for Festival 2026. There were also inputs on - 'AI in Everyday Life' and 'Making Your Events Fun for all the Family'. The groupwork discussions then focused on applying this learning for next year's festival and beyond.

Making Connections in Business - Networking for Business Startups

Time: 10:00am – 12:00pm

Venue: Strand Hotel, Ennis Road, Limerick. V94 O3F2.

If you are a new small business owner or are thinking about setting up a business this workshop provides an introduction to help you develop your networking skills. If you are not known and do not have a proven track record it can be challenging to build credibility among prospective customers. While social media is a valuable tool, it may not be enough to build visibility in a competitive marketplace. By connecting with the relevant people and building meaningful relationships, new business owners can access opportunities that may not otherwise be visible to them and build relationships of mutual value and collaboration. This session on effective networking and collaboration is specifically designed for business start-ups, small business owners and individuals who are unemployed and considering starting a business. Speaker: Nuala Rennisson, Enterprise Officer, Limerick City Partnership. Hosted by Economic Team, Limerick City Partnership.

The Standards for Community Work

Time: 10:30am – 1:00pm

Venue: Limerick Youth Service board Room; 3rd floor; 5 lower Glentworth Street. V9428C4

The All-Ireland Endorsement Body for Community Work Education and Training (AIEB) will facilitate a workshop on the Standards for Community Work. Community Development/Community Work is a unique discipline and distinct professional practice comprised of both a task and a process. The task is social change, to achieve equality, social justice and human rights and the process is the application of principles of participation, empowerment and collective decision making in a coordinated and structured way. The All-Ireland Standards for Community Work were published by the AIEB in 2016 to provide a foundation and guiding framework for Community Work/Development in the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland. Anastasia Crickley and Ciara Shanahan of AIEB will join us in Limerick for a workshop on the Standards. This workshop will provide an opportunity for those involved in Community Work/Development to learn more about the Standards and to explore their value and use for the complexities of current work and the issues faced in practice. This is an AIEB quality assured CPD initiative. CPD Certificates of attendance will be issued after the event to participants who request them.

Neurospicy Women!

Time: 11:00am – 1:00pm

Venue: Women's Collective Ireland – Limerick, 28 John Street, Limerick City, V94 K5N5.

Welcome to our information session about Neurospicy Women.

"Neurospicy" is a, often playful, slang term for neurodivergent, describing individuals with brain functions that differ from the norm, such as ADHD, autism, dyslexia, or OCD. It acts as a less clinical, more community-driven label to embrace unique cognitive styles, often emphasizing the intensity, complexity, or "spicy" aspects of these experiences. The purpose of this event is for women to share their experiences as a neurodiverse person in a world not made for them, and to learn more about common symptoms, side effects and tricks to cope. We encourage all curious women to stop by, diagnosis is not a necessity! No need to register. We offer tea and biscuits. This building is wheelchair accessible through the back door. For women over 18 years old.

Public Participation Networks: Participative Democracy in Action

Time: 4:00pm – 5:00pm

Venue: Limerick City Library, Barrow House, Michael St, Prior's-Land, Limerick, V94 RF63

Have you ever wondered how you can have a say in decisions that affect your community? Participative democracy gives people the opportunity to get involved and help shape local policies. Public Participation Networks (PPNs) are Ireland's main way for community and voluntary groups to connect with local government. They link local authorities with over 21,000 community, voluntary, social inclusion, and environmental groups across the country. Established in 2014, PPNs give people the chance to influence local policy through council committees such as Strategic Policy Committees (SPCs) and Local Community Development Committees (LCCDs). Come along to learn how participative democracy works and how you can get involved at a grassroots level to make a difference in your community. Everyone is welcome, and refreshments will be provided.

The Learning Ambassadors Sub-group continued to meet in 2025/2026. Learning Limerick also held a 'Learning Ambassadors Seminar' in October 2025. Two of our Learning Ambassadors, Yvonne Madden and Dave Doherty, shared their Lifelong Learning stories on the day. Adrienne O'Connell, West Limerick Resources, outlined the goals of the Learning Ambassadors programme; and attendees brainstormed together how to grow the initiative and how to link the Learning Ambassadors more closely with the Limerick Lifelong Learning Festival. Lots of ideas were brainstormed, including some of the following:

- Increase the number of ambassadors to 15 approximately.
- Hold an ambassadors-led event for the 2026 festival.
- Ambassadors to help distribute brochures to classes and speak to learners in classes around the festival.
- Involve the ambassadors in the radio media and social media campaigns for the festival.
- Produce an updated 'Learning Ambassadors booklet.
- Develop a 2-year workplan for the Learning Ambassadors Programme.
